

DiSC Certification

Boost your career with great communication skills and tools.

We all love diversity...

...until we have to cooperate. All relations face challenges when forced to work under stress. You know this is true in family, with friends and of course at work. We can try to learn to manage our temper but we risk losing our edge and identity if we always accommodate. We believe that in order to be our best selves we need to accept who we are and leverage our strengths.

DiSC allows individuals and groups to better understand themselves. Learning about behavioural differences is often the first step to both better express yourself and to accept others.

1

EXPERIENCE

All training with us is experience based.

2

PRACTICE

Knowledge is only potential power until you execute.

3

FOLLOW-UP

The secret ingredient to a successful implementation.

Blended learning for best effect

We want you to learn and to succeed. That's why our training is interactive and engaging. When you train with us you got all our best practice experience from working with clients from all business sectors.

The small group will allow you to have your trainers attention. We adapt the content to fit the participants needs. This is needed since Wiley's DiSC-reports are many and very thorough.

After this certification you will comfortably be able to support both individuals as well as groups with DiSC.

- The reports available to you are;
- Workplace - most common, for everyone
- Productive conflict - for everyone
- Sales - focused also on your client's needs
- Management - for 1st line managers
- Work of Leaders - Strategic managers
- Cooperation reports between individuals

Available in many languages

Learning about your preferences allow you to identify your most common obstacles for growth and cooperation.

As a leadership educator and coach, Per-Erik is engaging, challenging and charismatic! Per-Erik has great abilities to adapt his teachings to the group's needs, and shows strong ability in situational leadership. I am pleased to give Per-Erik my very best recommendations.
